A note from the author:

I was honoured that Rosemarie made time to talk to me and my editor. Rosemarie had us in tears when she described her time in residential school. What an awful chapter in Canada's history. It's hard to believe that residential schools were open until 1996. It was fascinating to hear from Rosemarie about her work fighting climate change in the Arctic and hear her describe why it's so important to her.

Meet Rosemarie Kuptana

1. Draw a picture of Rosemarie and her film crew when they were working on the movie, Sila Alangotok: Inuit Observations on Climate Change.
2. What are three things you can do to help fight the climate crisis? Make a list.
3. Write a letter to Rosemarie telling her what interests you most about the Arctic and to ask any questions about Arctic life that you may have.
4. Find out about another Inuit who has made a difference to life in Canada. List three facts about them and explain why you admire them.
5. Draw a poster showing the effects of climate change in the Arctic and encouraging people to fight against it.
